

Danielle Leedy

After a childhood in a loving, suburban family, Danielle Leedy began to struggle with depression in her mid-teens. Despite being a beautiful young girl and young woman, she nonetheless struggled with body image and self-harm issues -- issues she fought with at times her whole life.

In the early morning hours of February 2019, her depression prevailed, and as a result of what her parents call a perfect storm, Dani's life here on Earth ended at the age of 33.

Because her dreams and goals were not finished, Dani's family and friends chose to remain steadfast and not allow suicide be her final legacy.

Dani's Place creates a community of support for individuals and families dealing with serious and persistent mental illness and close a residential continuum of care services gap to improve and save lives.

In partnership, these groups have worked tirelessly to assess needs and develop the Dani's Place plan to ensure this crucial life-saving service will be available in Northwest Ohio. We are honored by our funding founder's generosity and commitment.
